“SOLIDARITY OF THE FUTURE” WHITE PAPER

ON A FRAMEWORK FOR FOSTERING VOLUNTEERING ACTIONS

The Solidarity for Heritage Network has been established within the framework of the “Solidarity for Heritage” project funded by the EACEA under the Europe for Citizens, 2014 – 2020 Strand 2 Measure 2.2 ‘Network of Towns’. The Municipality of Strumyani is the coordinator of the international initiative and the partners are Association EUni Partners, Bulgaria, Municipality of Agia, Greece; Naxxar Local Council, Malta, Municipality of Novo Mesto, Slovenia and Municipality of Castanissetta, Italy.

1. Introduction

Municipalities and towns situated in rural areas, have rich cultural heritage, traditions, and authentic lifestyle. Nevertheless, these areas have limited resources for maintenance, preservation and tourism development around this heritage, the main ones being poor economic development, lack of human resources due to depopulation, and lack of infrastructures. There is evidence, though, that taking action to promote and facilitate the involvement of voluntary workers in heritage preservation and valorization enhances these areas’ growth and development as it provides solutions to the lack of human resources challenge. For this reason the current document aims to:

- To initiate policy reform,
- Promote the involvement of voluntary service in activities, related to heritage preservation and valorization.
- Foster both local and transnational volunteering and solidarity by establishing several tools to promote and facilitate solidarity initiatives.
- Improve working and living conditions for volunteers, through implementing regulatory and standardization procedures for voluntary workers and placement conditions.
- Achieve greater recognition of the value of voluntary activities and the skills it promotes, with focus on formal and practical aspects of the recognition of voluntary service as a valid working experience.

- Establish a sustainable network of transnational volunteering between the participating cities.
- To improve quality, safety, and responsibility standards for volunteering and solidarity activities.
- Promote and disseminate the opportunities for voluntary service both on local and European level among the general population.
- To strengthen transnational Solidarity and Volunteering and achieving better quality of volunteering experience.

The current White Paper is the result of the cooperation of six European towns and Civil Society organizations (CSOs), during the course of the implementation of the Solidarity for Heritage project, funded by the Europe for Citizens programme of the European Union. The White Paper development engaged local authorities, experts and citizens, in order to encourage citizens' participation in the democratic life and civic participation in decision and policy-making. The process involved gathering of public opinions among the citizens and discussion with decision makers, NGOs, citizens, educational/ training organizations to guarantee that citizens are given the opportunity to further influence the development of a sustainable and inclusive society.

The needs and challenges defined, as well as the measures to be taken in order to achieve the above-listed aims are as follows:

- Insufficient funding for voluntary actions.
- Inefficiency regarding the valorization and continuation of the volunteering experience.
- Insufficient promotion of volunteering in activities, related to heritage preservation and valorization.
